

HIVR: Making cloud-based telephony accessible to all

Businesses are now embracing cloud-based technologies at a more rapid pace than ever before

With business costs on the rise and infrastructure turning obsolete on a daily basis

Cloud based solutions offer the only realistic way out

Cloud-based telephony lets businesses overcome communication obstacles with customers and stakeholders

Low TCO

Ensures that businesses never need to invest in hardware, as the solution is completely hosted by the service provider

Low costs

No investment in IT management, use of centralised hosting, transfer of calls over the internet

Real-time updates

Real-time monitoring and analysis of calls

A Hosted Interactive Voice Response (HIVR) system lets your business embrace the best that cloud-based telephony has to offer. It helps you compete with other businesses with

Deeper pockets

State-of-the-art infrastructure

A loyal customer base

The best part?

Zero investment in infrastructure

Zero software costs

Easily customisable IVR

Real-time monitoring of calls

So why not embrace the best that cloud-based telephony has to offer?
